

WEP_BGD_PTJ0_002_B1_2

Bangladesh Student #002 (Level B1.2)

Having a source of income, is a simple yet powerful way to lead a life on a positive note. Whether you are an adult, a student, or someone seeking stability in life, having a part time job in early years can have numerous benefits for your and mental and spiritual well-being. One of the most significant advantages of having a part time job is the boost they provide to your self-confidence which is very important for a student. Stepping outside into the competitive world from your comfort-zone, dealing with people helps awaken your self-esteem and invigorate your confidence in so different levels. Moreover, doing a part time job as a student can increase personal skills too. Students can learn time management and communication very well. They learn and exercise many skills through doing the works of the part time job. They can also grow a sense of responsibility at a very early age. This can make them work hard, dream big and be open minded. Doing a part time job as a student is an incredible way to start the journey of life. They are a valuable opportunity to connect with the corporate world, gain maturity, and set a strong point of view.